ENTIRE TICKET BACKED BY BOB WINS HANDILY

Fred R. Zimmerman Distances Dammann, Davidson and Johnson in Walkaway

LEVITAN ALSO VICTORIOUS

E. A. Braun Takes Lead in Fifth Congressional District and Will Buck Berger

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Governor J. J. Blaine was renominated on the Republican ticket at Tuesday's primary over A. R. Hirst and George F. Comings by a plurality estimated to run between 60,000 and 70,000 votes.

Returns from 2,262 precincts out of 2,678 in the state gave Blaine 196,450, Hirst 139,160; Comings 31,528.

Blaine Will Have Rival

Madison—Governor Blaine will have opposition in the Republican ranks for reelection in the general election, leaders for A. R. Hirst, defeated Republican candidate, indicated here. Managers for the former state highway engineer virtually admitted that Hirst would run as an independent in the November election.

Mr. Hirst conceded the nomination to Governor Blaine Wednesday morning, expressing satisfaction however, over his showing. Hirst estimated that the governor's lead would approximate 50,000.

Hirst advisers heralded the showing made by their candidate as a virtual victory and declared that the fight on the present administration has just begun. A statement from Mr. Hirst is expected later Wednesday.

nominee for congress in the Fifth district, the candidates endorsed by Senator Robert M. LaFollette won in each and every instance.

In the race for the Republican nomination for secretary of state, the incumbent, Fred R. Zimmerman, with the Wisconsin senior senator's backing, made a runaway race of it and with 1,850 precincts out of 2,678 in the state reporting, he had 161,907 to Dammann's 64,952, Davidson's 36,455 and Johnson's 31,680. State Treasurer Solomon Levitan, also one of LaFollette's staunch lieutenants won early but by no means with the margin held by Zimmerman. In 1,940 precincts Levitan had 150,335 votes to 123,955 for Johnson.

For congress all ten of the incumbent LaFollette congressmen were renominated but in the Fifth district E. A. Braun, who did not have the LaFollette support, was a winner and will oppose the present congressman, Victor Berger, a Socialist.

GEORGIA REBELS AGAINST SOVIET

Half of Republic's Territory Conquered by Insurgents, Report in Geneva

By Associated Press
London—The Georgian representatives in London have received a despatch from Constantinople saying that Georgia and Azerbaijan were revolting against the Soviet occupation force and that sanguinary conflicts have occurred, many being killed or wounded and railway and telegraphic communication being interrupted. British official circles were unable Wednesday to confirm these reports.

A despatch from Tiflis, capital of the Georgian republic, received by way of Moscow Sept. 1, declared an attempt to overthrow the Soviet regime in Georgia made last Friday night in several towns and villages of the republic had been put down. An official communique issued by the Georgian Council of Commissioners claimed the movement had been fully liquidated and the leaders captured.

Geneva—All of Georgia and Azerbaijan is declared to have been in active revolt against the Moscow Soviet regime for the last five days and half the territory of Georgia already has been conquered by the insurgents, according to the representative of Georgia here. The sanguinary struggle is continuing and fighting is occurring in the streets of Batumi, their advance state.

LEOPOLD'S WILL SHOWS SLAYER EXPECTS DEATH

Field Museum Is Chief Beneficiary Under Testament of Murderer

Chicago—The last will and testament of Nathan F. Leopold Jr., joint confessor with Richard Loeb of the kidnapping and murder of Bobbie Franks, has become public.

That Leopold contemplates the possibility of receiving a death sentence at the hands of Judge Caverly who now has the murder case under consideration is evinced by a letter he has mailed to Clarence S. Darrow, counsel for the Leopold defense.

The letter bequeaths to the Field museum first choice of any five objects in Leopold's ornithological collection.

Next choice is given to a cousin of Leopold, who may choose of any three articles after the Field museum has made its selection. Third the museum is given its choice of any birds, minerals or transcripts in the possession of Leopold or his family belonging to the confessed slayer.

In the letter Leopold asks Darrow to notify the beneficiaries as soon as possible—and before his execution. The letter also thanked Darrow for his closing arguments. Leopold wrote that he had been content to die before he heard that argument but after hearing it he wanted to live.

The last will was scratched out under a county jail arc light on paper supplied by the jailer.

KOSSUT MAN CLAIMS RECORD FOR VOTING

Manitowish—Joseph Cizek of the Town of Kossut, Manitowish, claims the state's record for continuous voting. He voted for the sixty-fifth time Tuesday. He is 87 years old, has never known a day of sickness and still does his family chores about the farm, including a trip to the creamery every morning.

Outagamie-Co Goes For Blaine And Zimmerman

Outagamie-co voters on Tuesday helped swell the majority by which Governor John J. Blaine won the Republican nomination over A. R. Hirst and George F. Comings, but they would not have anything to do with Blaine's candidacy for secretary of state, defeating him by a substantial margin, defeating him by a substantial margin, defeating him by a substantial margin.

UNIONS WATCH LABOR POLICY OF CANDIDATES

Leaders Recognize Many Differences on Labor Day Speeches

LACK COOLIDGE'S VIEWS

Davis Indicates Merely That He Wishes to See Freight Rates Reduced

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1924 by the Post Pub. Co.

Washington, D. C.—Labor day's utterances from the three presidential candidates may appear on the surface to be simply a plea for the labor vote as there was a distinct friendliness to the cause of the workingman expressed in the speeches of President Coolidge, John W. Davis and Senator LaFollette. But the labor leaders themselves recognize many differences in the attitude of the candidates and these differences are fundamental.

First on the vote of the railroad brotherhoods and their tens of thousands of members, Senator LaFollette and John W. Davis went over completely to the viewpoint of railroad labor and incidentally the American Federation of Labor with respect to the abolition of the United States Labor board. President Coolidge cautiously referred to the board as an experiment which "could be modified to the benefit of all concerned."

DAVIS AND BOB AGREE

The acid test of whether a candidate is friendly to railroad labor is the Howells-Barkley bill, providing for abolition of the railroad labor board, which was up in the last session of congress and was successfully sidetracked by administration leaders. Mr. Davis and Mr. LaFollette expressed on Monday views identical with the purpose of the Howells-Barkley bill. The president himself expressed no opinion when the measure was under discussion and has not committed himself yet. Railroad labor wants a definite pledge. It already had Senator LaFollette and it already had the support of a substantial number of Democrats in the senate and house but it must have been surprised to receive the support of John W. Davis since he has been characterized as a mad dog of the road candidate on labor questions, sometimes in the past arguing the cause of the employer and sometimes the employee. His unqualified support of the principle of the Howells-Barkley bill is an event of tremendous significance in the campaign. If he can endorse that measure he may be found fighting alongside Senator LaFollette on other questions vitally affecting agriculture as well as labor.

BUCKS TRANSPORTATION ACT

Senator LaFollette, however, was alone in his outright declaration in favor of the repeal of the Esch-Cummins transportation act. This is an other acid test of radicalism as against conservatism. Wrapped up in that act is the problem of freight rates, the radicals contending that since the railroads are permitted to earn a certain per cent of their investment they manage to pile up costs and operate their systems so extravagantly that there is no opportunity to obtain lower freight rates. Under the transportation act the Interstate Commerce commission can not reduce freight rates unless it reduces the earning power of the railroads. Senator LaFollette would repeal rate-making sections of the present law and perform a surgical operation on the whole railroad problem.

John W. Davis as yet has indicated merely that he wished freight rates reduced and he has expressed the belief that some way could be found, but he has not specifically pointed the way. Unless he is willing to attack the transportation act and point to a constructive remedy, many of the radicals in the west will not follow him. As for President Coolidge he has committed himself definitely to the retention of the transportation act with respect to the earning clauses for railroads and has said he would appoint a commission of inquiry to study the problem of freight rates.

Incidentally it is significant that Mr. Davis has come out against a federal department of education. Strange as it may seem, this has been tied up with religious cleavage in the last few years as the Catholic church has been supposed in congressional circles to be one of the leading opponents of such a department. Mr. Davis says he thinks the educational problem should be left to the states.

Another point this will help get for Mr. Davis much of the anti-Klan vote which he began to corral with his Scagitt speech.

KUCKUK LOSES IN DISTRICT BY 1,500 BALLOTS

Shawano Senator Carries Outagamie-co But Loses in Home Precincts

ENGLUND PILES UP LEAD

Wittenberg Editor Will Have 2,500 Majority in Shawano-co, Prediction

Although he carried Outagamie-co by 997 votes, Antone Kuckuk, Shawano, state senator representing the Fourteenth district, was defeated for the Republican nomination in Tuesday's primaries by John Englund, Wittenberg editor, backed by the Farmer-Labor Progressive league.

Only half of the Shawano-co precincts have reported but on the basis of these reports it is predicted that Mr. Englund will carry that county by 2,500 votes, giving him a lead of 1,500 in the district.

Mr. Kuckuk conceded defeat Tuesday night but did not expect Mr. Englund's majority in Shawano-co to exceed 1,500, thereby giving him a lead of 500 in the district.

Sixteen of the forty precincts in Shawano-co gave Englund 1,930 votes and Kuckuk 776, a lead of over 1,100 votes. According to information from Shawano, the remaining precincts are in strong Englund territory.

Kuckuk developed tremendous strength in Appleton, carrying the city by almost 1,100 over Englund, but he ran slightly behind the Wittenberg man in the county districts, receiving 1,944 votes to 2,028 for Englund.

Kuckuk carried every ward in the city, some of them by substantial majorities and he divided the county precincts with his opponent. His total vote was 4,481 while Englund received 2,434.

Tabulated reports by precincts for each of the candidates will be found on page 3 of this paper.

DAVIS CONTINUES TALK WITH CHIEFS

Democratic Nominee Will Deliver Address on Agriculture in Omaha Saturday

By Associated Press
Chicago—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, continued his conference Wednesday with Democratic leaders of Illinois and Indiana, begun Tuesday shortly after his arrival in Chicago, the first stop on the itinerary of his westward swing.

He planned to remain here three days before going to Omaha where he will deliver an address on agriculture next Saturday. It was announced Tuesday night that the nominee would deliver an address at Des Moines on Sept. 17. Previous to his coming to Chicago the nominee had not planned to speak in Iowa. It has not been decided whether he will speak before a day or a night gathering at Des Moines.

It was also definitely announced Tuesday night that the nominee would swing through Missouri on his way back to Chicago from Denver, Colo., where he is scheduled to speak next week. He will leave Denver, Sept. 11, after which date it was said plans for the swing through Missouri would be announced.

On his present visit to Chicago, Mr. Davis will not speak although he is scheduled to speak here on his next visit.

It was indicated by those in charge of his western campaign that Kansas City and St. Louis would be included in his mid-western itinerary.

LEAGUE WELCOMES M'DONALD, HERRIOT

Geneva—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and Premier Herriot of France attended Wednesday's session of the league of nations assembly and received a great ovation as they entered the auditorium. Both men were acclaimed by huge crowds as they left their hotels and again at the assembly hall.

Schneider's Lead In District Grows With Every Report

Congressman's Race with Budlong for Nomination Is Walkaway—Has 4,000 Majority in Outagamie-co.

Wins Easily

The only problematical thing about Congressman George J. Schneider's renomination as Republican candidate for member of Congress from the Ninth district is the size of his majority. Mr. Schneider is far ahead of his opponent, Judge Charles A. Budlong of Marinette, and his lead is increasing with every precinct reporting.

Schneider won in Outagamie-co in a walk going under the wire with almost 4,000 votes to spare. He polled 6,064 votes, the largest number cast for any candidate in Outagamie-co, while Budlong was supported by 2,266 voters. Schneider carried every precinct in the county except the first and second precincts of the First ward of Appleton, the first precinct of the Second ward, and the Village of Hortonville. Budlong won in Hortonville by one vote.

SCHNEIDER WINS HERE

Budlong's majority in the First ward was less than 100 votes and he lost the city by about 1,600. Almost every precinct reporting during the night increased his lead.

Schneider apparently is running as strong elsewhere in the district, except in Marinette-co, as he was in Outagamie-co. Brown-co, with six precincts missing, handed the congressman a lead of about 2,200 over his opponent and returns from 221 of the 257 precincts in the district give Schneider 13,801 votes to 5,509 for Budlong.

Marinette-co was splitting its vote almost equally, the latest report giving Schneider 2,207 and Budlong 2,020. Returns from Forest, Langlade and other counties in the northern part of the district are exceedingly meagre.

BECK NOMINATED

Milwaukee—Returns from the Seventh congressional district show that Joseph D. Beck has been nominated over Merlin Hull. Beck assumed a commanding lead as returns came in Wednesday morning and in 189 out of 267 precincts in the district had 13,487 votes to Hull's 10,266.

W. E. Browne, incumbent, appears to have been nominated in the Eighth district where 169 precincts out of 256 in the district gave him 11,438 votes to Arthur R. Prehn's 8,845 in the Eleventh district Congressman H. H. Peavey also has run up a lead that looks certain to nominate him. In 235 out of 391 precincts, Peavey has 12,915 votes and Ray S. Nye has 9,288.

The final count in the Fourth district was: John Schaefer 13,297, J. D. Reilly 2,469 and George Czerninski 7,465. In the Fifth district the final count was: Braun 14,814, Ernest Englund 7,230. Congressman John M. Olson, national campaign manager for Senator LaFollette, was nominated. With more than one half of the precincts in his district, the Third, reporting, Nelson established almost a 3 to 1 lead over his opponent J. B. Houston.

The note itself did not mention Meade nor the time the Golden State limited was due there but with the note came this information and Rock Island officials Wednesday are trying to find whether the strangers mentioned the place and time in their conversation at Rossville. When the train drew into Meade, Sheriff Earl Lepper of Meade-co with a score of deputies was hidden in a neighboring box car. When two of the bandits demanded that the engineers hold up their hands, the officers appeared, and the bandits began shooting.

L. V. Keeney, deputy sheriff, and Roy Lewis, a mail clerk, were wounded and one of the robbers was seen to fall but he escaped with another member of the band. The man arrested gave the name of Alonzo Flizneo.

Ralph Judkins, special agent of the Rock Island at Pratt, east of here, said he understood the mail car contained mail worth a quarter of a million dollars. Mail clerks barred their car but did not participate in the fighting since they were waiting until an attempt was made to enter the car.

HALE IS NAMED JUDGE OF WESTERN DISTRICT

By Associated Press
Superior—Herbert C. Hale, Madison, was Wednesday morning appointed clerk of federal court for the Western Wisconsin district by Judge C. C. Luse here. Mr. Hale succeeds William Comerford of Madison whose death recently left the post vacant. Mr. Hale has for the past several years been division chief of the internal revenue collector's office at Madison. Prior to that time he was for an extended period general manager of the Bayfield Transfer Railway Co. During that time he made his residence in Bayfield.

BATTLE DRAWS TOWARD COAST NEAR SHANGHAI

Large Number of Troops Are Engaged but Sides Fail to Gain Advantage

POWERS ISSUE WARNINGS

First Shot Fired at Hwangtu by Northern Forces, According to Reports

Shanghai—With fighting at Hwangtu near here in progress at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon between the contending armies of two rival provincial Chinese governors, reports received here indicated the battle lines were extending toward the coast in the direction of Woosung.

Although a large number of troops are engaged in the conflict, reports received here from Chekiang say that no material advantage has been gained by either side. It is said that the engagement Wednesday is preliminary to a major battle at Namtang Thursday, twelve miles from Shanghai.

According to information given out from Lungwha, military headquarters, the first shots were fired at Hwangtu by the northern troops after Chi Shiesh Yuan had moved large reinforcements to Hwangtu.

A report to the Dah Tong, a Chinese news agency, from Hong kong, says that Dr. Sun Yat Sen, rival of Chiang Tso Lin, military dictator of Manchuria, is planning a northern expedition with his Hunan, Kiangsi and Kwangtung troops.

Washington, D. C.—The hostilities between the forces of Military Governor Chi and Defense Commissioner Ho at Hwangtu near Shanghai, began at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, the state department was advised Wednesday by Consul General Cunningham.

Mr. Cunningham also reported that the American naval forces were prepared to land forces along with Japanese, French, Italian and British naval contingents to protect foreign settlements, if necessary.

Washington, D. C.—Reinforcements for the Asiatic naval squadrons of the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan have been ordered to Shanghai to protect their nationals during the clash between the rival factions of the adjoining Provinces of Chekiang and Kiangsu.

The vast harbor of Shanghai is occupied by the ships of many nations, and Dr. Wellington Koo, the Peking foreign minister, after being told that every means possible would be employed to protect the various nationalities, was advised further by the diplomatic agent of the four powers, acting together, that a naval battle in those waters "could not be tolerated."

CHICAGO ZIONISTS OPEN DRIVE FOR COLONY FUND

Chicago—Plans for the coming campaign to raise $1,000,000 for establishment of the Palestine colony, named Chicago, were got under way at a meeting Tuesday night of the 200 members of the Chicago Zionist organization.

It was decided to request presidents of local Jewish banks to send their members circulars asking them to subscribe $5 each to the fund.

Jews from all parts of the world, particularly those who are poverty stricken in Europe, would be welcomed in the proposed colony.

HALF OF COUNTY
VOTING STRENGTH
VOTE IN PRIMARY

Total Vote Tuesday Far Below
Expectations of Political Leaders

Scarcely half of the voting strength of Outagamie county was represented at the polls at Tuesday's primary election when candidates to be voted upon at the general election on November 4 were selected. The largest vote was cast for the six candidates for Republican nomination for sheriff, the vote aggregating 9,263. Of this number, 4,728 votes were cast in Appleton, representing slightly more than 50 per cent of the city's voting strength and about 65 per cent of the largest number of votes ever cast at any election here.

It was a Republican primary and nothing else, so far as this county was concerned. The total Democratic vote will not exceed 200 and there were a few scattering voters for Social Democratic and Prohibition candidates.

John E. Hantschel, candidate for county clerk on the Independent ticket received a number of votes but most of his support was indicated in the number of times his name was written on the Republican ballot.

The vote in the city was exceeding late. Some of the precincts registered more than half of their total vote after 6 o'clock in the evening. During the remainder of the day the election officials were idle.

Combined Locks village was the first rural precinct to complete its count and report totals. The polls closed at 5:30 and counting was completed before 7 o'clock. Center and the first precinct of the Sixth ward were the last to complete counting, reporting in about 4 o'clock in the morning.

The Post-Crescent's election extra contained much later information on the state situation than was contained in even the latest of the Milwaukee papers reaching Appleton Wednesday morning. The Post-Crescent reported returns from 1,728 precincts while the latest report in the Milwaukee papers was of 1,326 precincts.

CONTRACTORS RUSH WORK ON BERLIN'S NEW SCHOOL

Appleton Construction company which was awarded the contract for building the new $100,000 Washington school building at Berlin has just completed the second story and expects to have the building inclosed early next month. Such rapid progress is being made the contractors are of the opinion the structure will be ready of occupancy by Thanksgiving time instead of the first of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Kapp and daughter Ruth, returned to Milwaukee, Racine and Waukegan over the week-end.

Asthmador Guaranteed
To Relieve Asthma

"I have arranged with all druggists here, as well as in all other towns of the U. S., that every sufferer from Asthma, Hay Fever, Bronchial Asthma or difficult breathing in this city can try my treatment entirely at my risk. Dr. R. Schiffman assures me, says: 'Buy a box of my Asthmador, try it, and if it does not afford you immediate relief, or if you do not find it the best remedy you have ever used, take it back to your druggist and he will return your money, cheerfully and without any question whatever. After seeing the grateful relief it has afforded in hundreds of cases which had been considered incurable, and which had been given up in despair, I know what it will do. I am so sure that it will do the same for others that I am not afraid to guarantee it will relieve instantaneously. Druggists, anywhere, handling Asthmador will return your money if you say so. You are to be the sole judge and under this positive guarantee absolutely no risk is run in buying.' Persons preferring to try it before buying will be sent a free sample. Address R. Schiffman Co. LABOR AND THE ELECTION

On Labor Day the various candidates for president and vice-president sought to attract to their respective tickets the favor and vote of the American workingman. Some of the stock arguments and blandishments of politics entered into the addresses of each of the speakers. For example, Mr. Coolidge would improve labor's lot through the wondrous means of high protection; Mr. Davis would do it through a law tariff or no tariff at all; La Follette's panacea is the smashing of monopoly and the dethronement of wealth. Phrase-making of this character is to catch votes. Labor has not progressed in the United States through the instrumentality of the tariff nor through the cheap prices afforded by low import duties nor through trust busting, and yet it has progressed.

All of the political action that can be taken, direct or indirect, is incidental to social and economic procedure. Government cannot make labor prosperous, although government may create conditions favorable to self-advancement.

Mr. Gompers and all of the really big men among the labor leaders have recognized these facts. They have sought to keep labor out of politics as a party. They have proceeded on the theory that what labor most requires is freedom of action and opportunity. They are opposed to laws which abridge this freedom so long as it is exercised with restraint, and in this they are right. They have opposed the extremes, for example, to which the injunction has been used as a weapon against labor. The extent to which the injunction was carried by Attorney-General Daugherty in the railroad strike was an encroachment of the constitutional rights of American citizens. That kind of judicial tyranny should not only be resisted, but it should be broken down and abolished.

One thing labor needs is protection against interference by government when it is dealing with conscienceless and hard-boiled employers who deny it justice. Labor needs a "hands off" policy by the government when it is negotiating for better wages and working conditions, a fair understanding of the facts by the public and social atmosphere in which it will obtain square dealing. Not only can it get decent treatment and recognition in its negotiations where its case is presented in a free and unprejudiced atmosphere, but it can successfully enforce its demands.

Government cannot make wages, government cannot make employment, government cannot make prices. Government cannot do any of the things that are absolutely vital to labor's well being and progress. These things labor can largely control for itself if it is accorded freedom of action and is protected in the exercise of its inherent rights and constitutional liberties.

We think that every sober-minded, clear-headed laboring man knows that as a whole the cause for which he stands has made greater and more enduring advancement in the United States than anywhere else in the world. It is true by comparison, and it is historically true. In so recent a period as the last twenty-five years, there has been a wonderful change in his favor. The worst abuses of the previous generation have been done away with. The sweatshop is largely a thing of the past. The exploitation of child labor is nearing the end, the last remnants of the 12-hour day are passing, and soon there will be nothing but the 8-hour day. Insanitary and unhealthy surroundings have given way to well-lighted well-aired workrooms, where men may perform their services without jeopardy to their health. In the main, the miserable hovel of former days has given place to comfortable and pleasant homes. Wages have increased greatly. Some may contend not in the same degree as the cost of living, but certainly they have been constantly going upward. There are more home owners among labor today than ever before. A census of automobiles owned by labor would be surprising, so would the number of homes provided with pianos, phonographs, radio sets, bathtubs, and many of the things that 20 or 30 years ago were regarded as luxuries that could be possessed only by the rich or did not exist at all.

This advancement labor has brought about principally through its own efforts, through its own resourcefulness, through its own persistence and determination and capable leadership. If it will look back over the record it will find that not much of what has transpired for its betterment is the gift or bestowal of politicians. We doubt if it can trace its real prosperity and development to political action of any kind, or to the remedies or schemes of men standing for office. Government has not made labor what it is, neither have the politicians.

What is directly, as well as indirectly, responsible for this gain to labor is the American system. Everybody knows what this means, as contra-distinguished from the systems in use in most other nations of the world, particularly the great nations. Nobody with any judgment would exchange the American system for that which exists in England, or that which exists in France or Germany or Russia. Therefore, it seems to us that labor's best assurance of future improvement lies in its performance of the past, lies in the preservation of the American system. It lies in a full opportunity for self-expression, for dignifying labor, for exerting its power in social and economic channels, for the assertion of principles of justice. It lies in working with the other interests of the country for recognition of its rights and for the common good of all. Labor should not be content with its present status but it should be proud of its achievements. It is entitled to its share in government, local, state and national. It is for labor to decide what course it shall take in politics and in party government, but it should keep in mind the fact that there is no short-cut to its elevation through direct political action and that a high average of national prosperity is essential to the enhancement of its own position in American life.

HERRIN AGAIN

A few days ago General Dawes, referring to the Klan question, was quoted as saying that "if a secret organization to uphold law and order is justifiable anywhere in the country, it was justifiable there." He was referring to Herrin, Illinois. There is a certain plausibility in the theory that where government fails to function, and law and order fall into disrepute, men may associate themselves together to take law into their own hands, but it does not seem to work out in practice. Every community has more or less of this trouble.

For the third time in the last two years Herrin is being patrolled by state troops. Following the mine massacre the Klan went into Williamson county to clean things up, compel law enforcement and put down bootlegging. An opposition secret organization sprang up and there has been warfare ever since. This culminated in another wholesale murder in which six men were shot down.

The responsibility for these killings is not clear. The Klan blames the anti-Klan faction, and vice-versa. While troops are necessary to maintain order and to suppress further violence until passions have cooled, Herrin nevertheless is not to be brought back to law and order through force. Violence invariably begets violence. The feuds fomented in Herrin in the last year or two are sufficient to keep it in terror for generations.

Herrin can get back to peace and security only through the functioning of its courts, executives and duly constituted authorities. The law must be administered without fear or favor. That can be had only where there is recognition of civic responsibilities and duties. It is going to take a long time for Herrin to master itself. It is paying a terrible price to learn the obligations of good citizenship. In the meantime no man's life or home is safe. In all probability this is not the last time the soldiers will be sent to Herrin. What has happened in this community, together with its causes, is something that every other community throughout the country should studiously avoid.

WHETHER TO WEAN OR TO WORRY

A healthy boy who arrived here last Christmas finds himself confronted by a fork in the road, a three tined fork, and he can't make up his mind whether to continue right on along the straight road with an exclusive diet of Dr. Nature's foods, or to take the right turn which calls for a fifty-fifty regimen, or the left turn which requires the boy to renounce and surrender his birthright and submit wholly on artificial food. Very little inquiry among the neighbors and bystanders round about suffices to prove that he can get little reliable advice that way, for while some of the neighbors think it might be unwise to wean a feller until cold weather comes, "some says" they nurse theirs through the second summer always—that is, if the babies survive so long. At this juncture Mrs. Sargent Gamp very fittingly happens along and without waiting for an inquiry she opines that it adds confusion to what, but no matter. All together it's a tough proposition for a kid with only four or five teeth. And just milk teeth at that. Milk, however, builds the best teeth in the world. Milk, if it is fresh and pure, provides the necessary amount of the main substances for the building of strong teeth—calcium (lime). Pure raw milk also provides certain vitamins which are essential for the development of the essentials, through the ignorance of their guardians and the cupid's of commercial interests, and that's why some babies have poor teeth or delayed cutting of the teeth.

Whether to wean in the summer season used to be a serious problem in the old days, but it is no longer a problem except perhaps among the unfortunate victims of ignorance, poverty, alcoholism and crime. In the old days people did not understand the importance of keeping milk fresh in the hot weather and the babies succumbed in great numbers from cholera, infantile "milk" intoxication, which is a disease that occurs when the milk is not properly cared for. If you can't afford to purchase clean pure milk for the baby, then you can at least afford pasteurized milk or you can pasteurize the ordinary milk yourself—pasteurization consists in heating the milk to a temperature of 145 degrees F. (measured with a thermometer in the milk), holding at that temperature 20 minutes, then cooling. This is pretty certain to kill off disease germs in the milk. It is only a compromise with questionable or dirty milk. Better still, if you can't afford pure fresh milk, is boiling for 5 minutes, which destroys any germs in the milk and probably does not so greatly impair the vitamin content of milk as does pasteurization. Of course if you can have the purest fresh milk obtainable, which is called certified milk, the baby is in luck and certified milk requires neither boiling nor pasteurization.

When a breast fed baby reaches the age of 10 months he should be weaned regardless of the season, and it is general feeling that he quickly, say, one less breast feeding each day for about a week, or each second day using a certain amount of ruthless rule of thumb discipline, making the process complete in a week or 10 days at the longest, and thereafter practicing a rigid let alone policy aside from wearing a light, not tight supporting binder. Amateur mothers are entitled to this private tip: If you're trying to wean the babe always lock the door when you see Sargent Gamp coming.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Electric Fan
Kindly give me your opinion of the office electric fan. Some contend it makes the humidity more bearable, while the others hold that it merely circulates the stale air which makes matters worse (C. H. E.)
Answer.—I am for the electric fan or any other apparatus or arrangement which keeps the air moving, for the main thing that makes air fresh is a movement. Besides being a great comfort on a hot, still, or humid day, the fan is healthful because it freshens the air.

Radio Opens Way For Deaf Folk To Hear

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
Washington, D. C.—Radio is brightening the lives of many persons who are hard of hearing. New radio experiments are hastening progress in apparatus for overcoming deafness. The prospects there are really remarkable. But some of the stories about deaf people being cured by radio are fairy tales, beautiful but untrue.

These and other unadorned facts about the mysterious subject of radio are related and explained by Miss Josephine Timberlake, who is the superintendent of the Volta bureau, which Alexander Graham Bell founded "for the increase and diffusion of knowledge relating to the deaf."

More than once the report has been circulated that some individual deaf and mute from birth, picked up radio ear phones and was enchanted to find that he could understand every word of a speech. This is not plausible. To a person who had never learned the sound of English words, the radio's message, if heard, would be totally unintelligible. Other equally exaggerated stories are also current.

BONE CONDUCTION POSSIBLE

The effect of radio upon a deaf person is neither mysterious nor supernatural. It is not unlike the effect of the telephone. Every one knows some person who is hard of hearing, but who can converse comfortably over a telephone. The telephone sends the message concentrated and direct to the ear. Then too the receiver is usually pressed against the bone in front or back of the ear and this causes the message to be carried by what is known as bone conduction. Instead of traveling from the outer ear through the middle ear passage to the inner ear, sound vibrations are caught by one of the head bones and carried direct to the inner ear. In consequence, if the person's trouble is in the middle ear, where so many hearing difficulties are located, he may be able to use a telephone with a success that surprises his friends.

Radio apparatus is even more accommodating than the telephone. The individual who is hard of hearing generally requires a rather powerful and delicate set. Whether a deaf person can hear over radio sets depends on the extent and character of his deafness. Roughly speaking, if the apparatus in his head is sufficiently sensitive to catch the highly amplified sounds, he can.

Indirect benefits of radio will be far more important to the deaf than the pleasure they get from listening to it. It is said. Radio receiving apparatus is very much like the portable electric devices which many deaf people wear to amplify sound for them. These devices consist of a battery, transmitter, and one or two receivers. Improvements in radio apparatus have consequently been applied to portable hearing devices, and several electric companies have become interested in the problem of perfecting electric devices for the deaf.

BOUGHT BACK HEARING

A millionaire, who was determined to make sound overcome his deafness, engaged the services of one of these electric companies. The company's men studied the millionaire's case of deafness and his house. They

"I'll wear it Right Out"--- said the customer!

He meant he would wear the Campus Togs suit he had just purchased right home and that we would deliver the old suit in the morning.

"Oh, No you won't," we replied—we meant that it is impossible to wear a Campus Togs "right out"—it will wear for years.

But here—why are we talking about the wear of a Campus Togs suit when that is already understood?

What we want to do is tell you that the new Campus Togs models are beautiful and we are not bashful about showing them.

TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR

experimented carefully. At last they established a battery about the size of a cupboard in the residence. This battery was connected with each room in the house. Now, the deaf millionaire puts on head phones in any room and he can catch any sound in it.

One of the triumphs of this piece of research is that the ear phone for each ear is constructed to suit the condition of deafness in that ear. This means that hearing in the two ears is equalized. The deaf person whose hearing is better in one ear than in the other is not able to distinguish the directions from which sounds come. If someone knocks at a door the deaf person has to guess which door is to be opened. If an automobile horn sounds on the street he has to look all around to see whence the warning comes. The millionaire's receiving apparatus corrects this inequality of hearing, just as eye glasses correct inequality of vision.

This man spent thousands of dollars to achieve a semblance of normal hearing. Some day, portable electric devices which will be as efficient as the expensive battery and wiring may be within reach of every one of the thousands who are hard of hearing. The apparatus is being developed first. Then will come the problem of making it cheap enough to be practical.

SHE'S OLDEST D. A. R.

Prominent Daughters of the American Revolution from all over the United States are planning to meet in Milwaukee, Wis., on Oct. 2, to pay homage to Mrs. Louisa Kirwin Thiers, the oldest daughter, and believed to be the oldest woman in the country whose age can be authenticated. She'll be 110 on that date. Mrs. Thiers' father was corporal on the staff of George Washington during the Revolutionary War.

The Question Box

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Give your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. What is the fastest train in the world? H. L.

A. It is said to be the Boardwalk Flyer, which runs from Philadelphia to Atlantic City daily at a speed of 65 miles an hour.

Q. How many names appear in the 1924-25 "Who's Who?" S. C.

A. This volume contains 25,357 biographies, of which 2,774 appear in no previous issue. The first "Who's Who" in America, 1893-1900, contained 602 sketches. In all 45,443 life sketches have appeared in the 13 volumes of this publication.

Q. How do aviators produce smoke in the sky? W. R. P.

A. Aviators produce long trails of smoke by blowing suitable fuming liquids, such as oil or silicon tetrachloride through the engine exhaust.

Q. I have read that trees were once so plentiful that when cut only the shakes were used. What is meant by that? S. I. B.

A. This refers to the center section of the trunk of a tree that splits easily into short lengths. This wood can readily be cut into shingles, and the expression pine and cedar shakes is often heard instead of shingles.

Q. It is true that a rattlesnake's rattles are noiseless when wet? N. V.

A. The Biological Survey says that the idea that a rattlesnake can not rattle when its rattles are wet from swimming, or being in wet grass or rain storms, is incorrect.

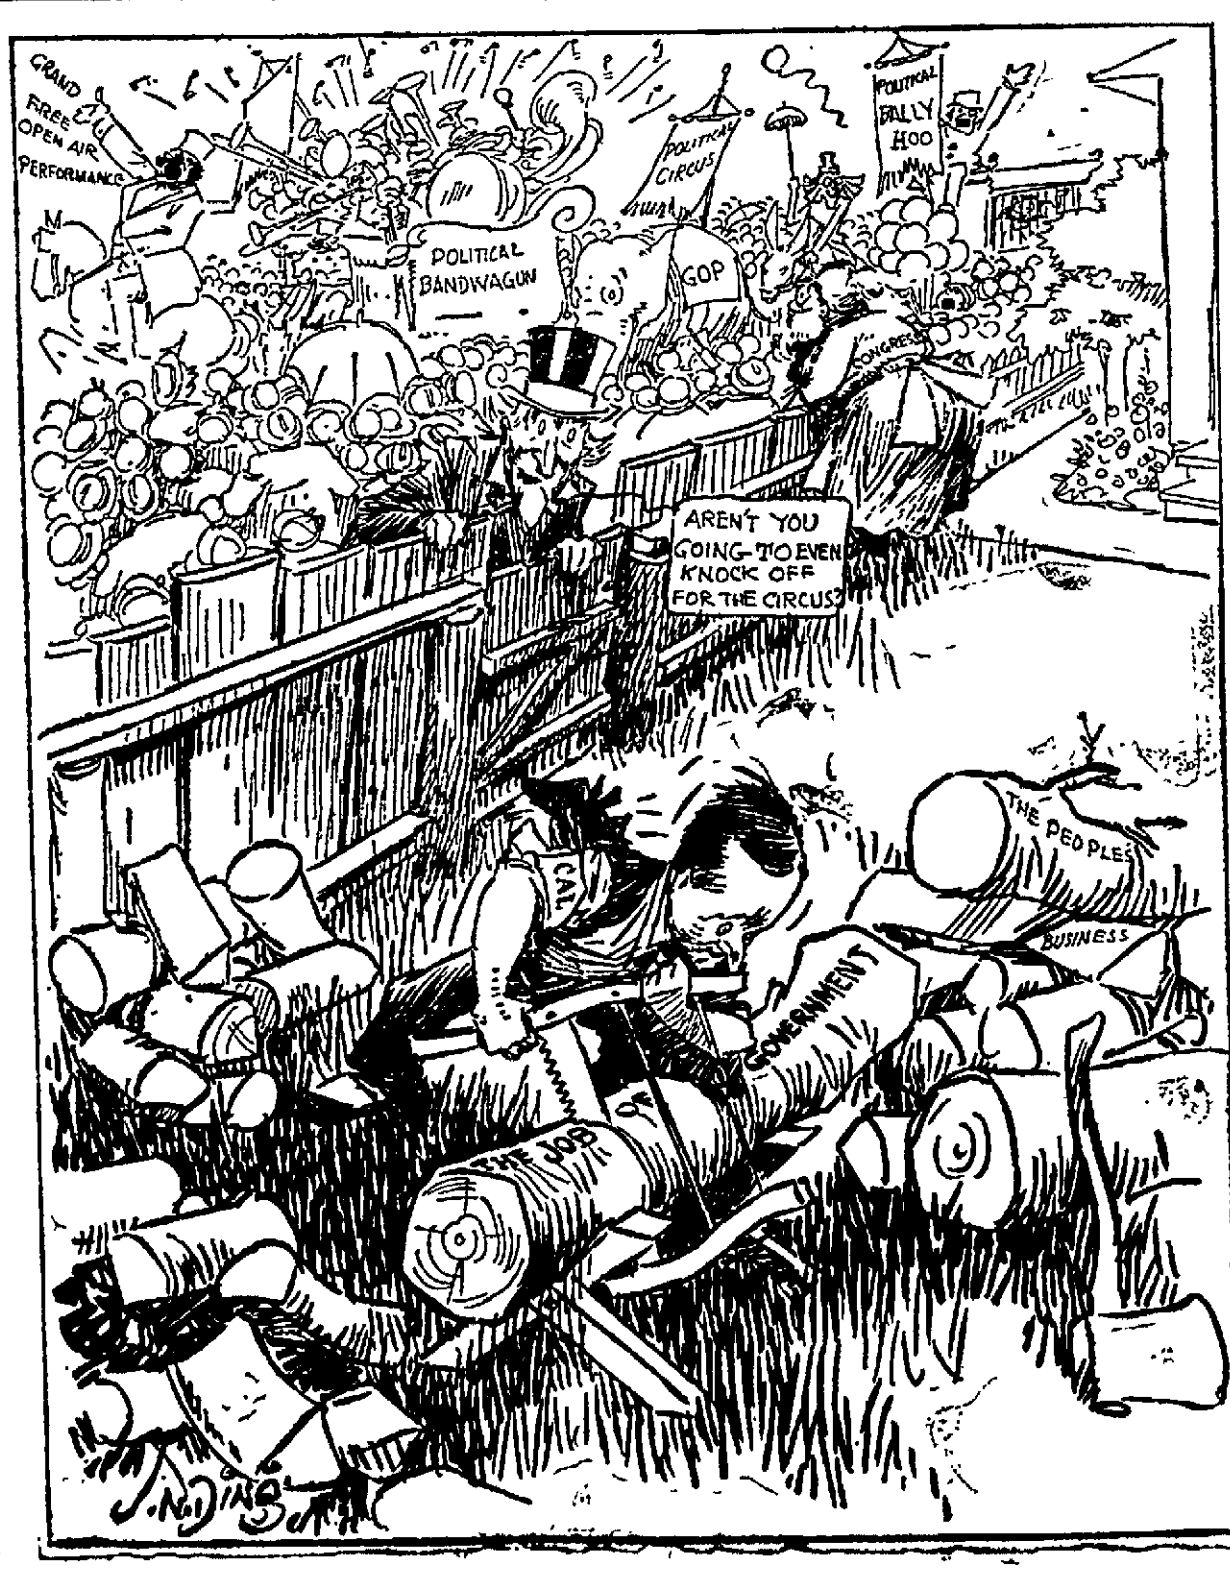

Q. In how many States must the Bible be read in the public schools? V. B. S.

A. Seven States provide by law for Bible reading in the public schools. There are 11 states which prohibit Bible reading in the schools, while in 30 states the Bible may be read in the schools.

Q. What effect does 500 miles of travel have on the oil in the crank case? M. H. W.

A. The Bureau of Standards says what happens to a lubricating oil during 500 miles of service is, from a quantitative point of view, largely a matter of the operating conditions. In general however, the oil is contaminated by road dust, which is drawn in through the carburetor, by carbon from the combustion space, by water resulting from the combustion, and by the unburned portions of the fuel which are taken up by the oil film on the cylinder walls and eventually reach the crank case.

ROTARIANS HONOR NEW LEGION HEAD

L. Hugo Keller Guest of Honor at Luncheon Club Program

A luncheon in honor of L. Hugo Keller, who recently was elected commander of the state department of the American legion, was given by the Rotary club Tuesday noon at the Conway hotel. Members of the American legion were invited and about twenty attended the luncheon. The Fulhimer orchestra furnished music and Dr. D. O. Kingsman spoke about the honor conferred upon Appleton in Mr. Keller's election. Ray Peterson talked about the principles and functions of the American legion so that Rotarians might know what the organization stands for. He also told of the various activities in which Mr. Keller has participated, one of which was a membership campaign in which 4,000 more members were added to the Wisconsin department. Mr. Keller thanked the Rotarians.

Married Teachers, Refused Positions, Declare They Have Contract

Kaukauna—Eight teachers appeared Tuesday morning in Nicolet school prepared to teach six grades. Mrs. Albert Borklund and Mrs. D. J. Kito, who last fall were made ineligible to teach as a result of the school board's ruling barring married female teachers, appeared for work as they had planned. The action apparently was not anticipated on the part of the board of education since no precautions had been taken to care for the matter. It was necessary for the new teacher in Mrs. Borklund's place to notify Superintendent J. W. Cavanaugh that her class was being conducted by another. Mr. Cavanaugh immediately went to the school gave notice that Mrs. Borklund's services were not required.

Mrs. Kito, however, said she did not receive a similar notice in the morning when she appeared for duty and consequently she returned in the afternoon. In the meantime Chief of Police R. H. McCarty had been notified and as a result he spoke to Mrs. Kito in the afternoon.

Upon hearing Mrs. Kito's statement that she had not yet been discharged, Mr. McCarty phoned Mr. Cavanaugh and asked him to take the necessary action over the telephone. Mrs. Kito heard the statement and immediately left the building. The infection of the police department into the case gave rise to numerous ungrounded rumors.

The present trouble is the result of a misunderstanding as to what constitutes a legal contract. Last fall all city teachers were handed blank contracts and were asked to return them signed if they desired to return here. The two teachers did so and later the board made the ruling barring married female teachers. The change was to take effect at once and as a result Mrs. Borklund and Mrs. Kito, the latter having just been married, were considered ineligible. New contracts including this marriage clause were issued. Attorneys for the teachers have stated the ladies have a complete contract with the board and it is quite probable further action will be taken at the end of the school term.

FIRE DEPARTMENT
RESCUES YOUTH
FROM NEEDLE DAM

Young Swimmer Almost Swept to Death by Swift Current of Fox River

Special to Post-Crescent
Kaukauna—Three youths went swimming in the rapids of the Fox river near the Union Dam mill Sunday afternoon and one nearly drowned when he was caught in the swift current and carried downstream. Two of the boys, Norbert Nettekoven and John Verbaten managed to get to the shores of the island which splits the river below the railroad bridge, but the third, William Vils, was swept down for a considerable distance until he was thrown against the needle dam of the Outagamie Paper mill. The last struck a portion of the dam where a small group of needles protruded from the water and he was able to climb to safety.

The boys are said to have been diving from the railroad trestle when the current caught them. Nettekoven and Verbaten managed to reach safety on the island after a hard battle but Vils could do nothing against the rush of water. Had he not reached the needles which rose up from the surface it is probable he would have been washed over the dam into the rapids about 20 feet below.

As long as the lad stayed where he was he was safe but the high water and swift current made an attempt to land futile. A call was sent in to the fire department which arrived with ropes. The wheels of the Outagamie Paper mill were opened and the water was lowered about six inches without much result. A boat was secured and an attempt was made to float it down near the dam.

A rope finally was thrown from the boat to the boy after which it was an easy matter to get him to shore. All of the boys were quite exhausted as a result of their efforts.

WANT BRIDGE OVER
KONKAPOT CREEK

Kaukauna—The monthly meeting of the common council was held Tuesday evening in the council chambers but only routine business was disposed of because of the fact that election day is a legal holiday. The body adjourned until Wednesday evening.

A communication petitioning the common council to construct a larger bridge over Konkapot creek was received from the Kaukauna Athletic association and placed on file. The petition stated that considerable damage is caused to local baseball property every year mainly because the tunnels through the bridge are not large enough to carry the surplus water which come down after a storm.

City Indorses Prah for Congress—Blaine Carries All Wards But One

New London—Gov. John J. Blaine was indorsed for reelection on the Republican ticket by the people of New London in the voting at the primaries Tuesday, but Congressman E. E. Browne did not fare as well. He lost the city to his opponent, Arthur W. Prah, by 66 votes. The vote was comparatively light and the count was finished well before midnight.

A. R. Hirst, stalwart Republican candidate for governor, drew a liberal vote in his contest against Blaine. The governor polled 373 votes in the five wards and Hirst received 250. George F. Comings made a meager showing as the third man in the race, receiving only 61 votes. Blaine carried all wards but the Fourth in which the ballot was 113 for Hirst and 110 for Blaine.

The newlyweds will spend a brief honeymoon visiting in Milwaukee and will reside at 326 Franklin-st., Waukegan.

CHOIR REHEARSALS
Kaukauna—Tipton Lutheran church choir will resume rehearsals Thursday evening after the summer vacation. The body consists of about 20 amateur singers and is directed by the Rev. Paul Oehlert, pastor. A meeting of the Young People's society is to be held in the church basement Wednesday evening.

RECORD ENROLLMENT AT TRINITY CHURCH SCHOOL
Kaukauna—The first day of school brought a record enrollment of 93 pupils to Trinity Lutheran school and it became evident new teachers probably will have to be added to the staff to care for the increase. The enrollment last year reached a total of only 75. Theodore Boettcher and Miss Edith Meyer are the present teachers and with the help of the Rev. Paul Oehlert, an attempt will be made to handle the children, at least until a new teacher or two is secured. It is believed the opening of the new Lutheran school has been an inducement for the parents to send their children to the church school.

FEEL OLDER THAN YOU ARE?
ARE you lame and stiff; worn out and dispirited; dragging around day after day with throbbing backache and sharp stabs of pain? All too often this condition is due to a slowing up of the kidneys which allows body poisons to accumulate and upset the whole bodily machinery. Then comes constant backache, stabbing, rheumatic twinges, headaches, dizziness, nervousness and annoying bladder irregularities. Get rid of these aches and pains! Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Here is Appleton Proof:
A. A. Doepler, 1177 DeForest Ave., says: "A sharp, cutting pain cut into my back and I could hardly get about. My back became very sore. My kidneys acted too freely and sometimes the secretions were highly colored. Members of my family recommended Doan's Pills, so I bought a box. Two boxes of Doan's cured me. The backache has not bothered me and my kidneys act in good order."

Jack was silent a moment after he had made the comment on modern women, and then he asked: "I wonder if it has made for greater happiness?"

"Not for the man, Jack," I answered quickly, "because his will be finds is not now supreme. Woman has grown into something more than a possession. She must have a voice in her own life, and its direction."

With one of those sudden changes that always surprise me in Jack he said with a laugh:

"Well, I'll have to be very careful how I treat you, my lady. I would probably find you more implacable than Harry has Ruth. Come on, let's go and see the kid."

Little Jack had been asleep when Jack came home to dinner, and he had not seen the baby since his return.

Is there anything more beautiful than a sleeping child? Its innocence, its helplessness, and its potentialities appeal to you most at that time.

Jack bent over the bed and laid his hand softly upon little Jack's damp curls. The baby stirred a bit in his sleep, then opened his eyes wide, and I swear a look of recognition came into his eyes. He raised his little arms uncertainly; then they fell back and he dropped asleep again.

Jack turned to me and threw his arms about me. "I am the happiest man in all the world, my dear."

"I am glad you did not say 'person,' because you could not be happier than I tonight, Jack."

After this bit of sentiment we began as married people often do, to talk plans for the next few days.

"I don't just know, Jack," I said, "how we are going to make excuses to your mother."

"Why, we'll just have to tell the truth, Leslie. You didn't know that you would be called to New York when you telegraphed her to come."

"I'm quite sure that she will be content—at least she would be content with the baby and me until you return."

"You won't be gone long, will you, dear? For you know I'm going to be very busy at the office, and you know mother has never gotten over the idea that you should come first, even before business. I shall have to be home for meals very promptly, for mother has never been able to understand that anything in my life should come before her."

"That's another thing we women have changed," I said. "We do not make the question of prompt meals such a fetish as our mothers used to, and we are not so jealous of a man's business. We understand that after all, marriage is a business, and as a partner in it, we must work for the interests of all concerned."

"Good Lord, Leslie, are you getting strong minded?"

I raised my lips to John's. After a long kiss, I murmured, "Do you think so?"

Adventures Of
The Twins

"I think I'd kind of like to visit Buster Bear on my vacation," said Weeny, the elephant, to the Twins. And I'm sure Buster would like to have you, too."

"Where does he live?" asked Nick. "In a woods on a side of a mountain," said Weeny. "Nancy, will you please shake the wrinkles out of my nightgown and pack it up for me? I can't go to Buster's house all wrinkled up. And where are my specs?"

"You have them on," laughed Nancy. "There's right on your nose."

"Ha, ha," declared Weeny. "If they'd been a snake they'd have bitten me. That's me for you! Here, Nancy, I'll take them off and you can pack them, too."

So Nancy packed the specs and then she and Nick trotted off—I mean Weeny trotted off with them on his back. I mean the Twins on his back, not the specs.

I don't know what places they crossed but it was about a dozen things, and by and by they came to the tree-covered mountain side where Buster lived in a cave house with his mother and daddy.

When Weeny climbed up and rang the door-bell, Buster answered, for indeed there was no one else to do it. He was all by himself.

He was so surprised to see them that all he could say was, "Good-night."

"You should say, 'Good-day,'" said Weeny, wrapping his trunk around Buster's neck and giving him a kiss. "Good-night—I mean 'Hello,'" said Buster, doing a little dance. "I'm as glad as sixty to see you. Where are you going?"

"Here," said Weeny, sitting down to let the Twins slide off his back. "We've come to pay you a visit. Have you got any room?"

"Oodles," said Buster. "Ma and Daddy are away on a trip and I'm all by myself. And I was just wondering what I was going to do. But now we can have a good time. Four is a dandy number. We can't play ball or prisoner's base, but we can play tig and hispy and five hundred and casino and loads of things. Can you cook, Nancy?"

"Yes, I can cook anything in cans," said Nancy. "and boil eggs and make tea."

"We'll have a perfect picnic," said Buster Bear. "Come on in and take off your things and we'll have a game of hispy right away. Talk about circuses!"

Well, I haven't got much room left to tell you all about it, but the visitors stayed five days with Buster and then Mr. and Mrs. Bear came home.

"Buster, did you get the cellar cleaned as I told you?" said Mrs. Bear.

"No, ma'am," said Buster, hanging his head.

"Or the fence whitewashed or the ash-can emptied or the wood cut or—"

"Oh, ma, we had such a good time I forgot," said Buster.

"I think we'll be packing and moving along," said Weeny to the Twins.

Baker Is High Gun Of Local Marksmen In Labor Day Shoot

Out of Town Sharpshooters Collect Most of Prizes in Biggest Event of Year at Appleton Shooting Park.

Out of town marksmen Monday carried off the cream of the prizes offered in the registered shoot of the Appleton Angling and Shooting club, and Earl Baker of Appleton who broke 91 out of 100 targets was high gun among local entrants both in the singles and doubles events. In the doubles he broke 39 targets for a fourth place tie.

Despite the fact that it began to rain at 8 A. M. the shooting continued throughout the day, and many creditable scores were registered. George Hamilton of the Rivers, broke 141 out of 150 birds for a high mark with S. H. Clinedinst of Menasha five targets behind. Edward Nelson of Manitowoc was high gun in the doubles event when he broke 43 out of a possible 50 with George Hamilton close on his heels.

The preliminary shoot on Sunday also was well attended. The record of Arthur Jennings of New London who had a straight run of 55 gave him high score, lacking but 6 to fill his 100. E. A. Clifton of Appleton smashed 92 out of his century.

Scores for the registered shoot on Monday were as follows:

The annual meeting of the Appleton Angling and Shooting club will be held Monday evening and will begin with a banquet at 6:30 in the Conway hotel. Besides the election of officers and the reading of the annual financial report by G. L. Chamberlin, secretary-treasurer, a very important matter will be up for discussion. The Butte des Morts golf club has invited a consolidation of the two clubs and proposed that the park be removed to the golf grounds. Many of the golfers also are members of the shooting club and their proposal was made with the convenience of both organizations in view. The matter will be placed before the officials and members of the Angling and Shooting club Monday night.

PACKERS SIGN UP TILLIE VOSS, ONE OF GRID'S STARS

Former Detroit University End Leaves Cleveland Pro Squad for Green Bay

Green Bay — Tillie Voss, one of the greatest ends in the contract, wired his acceptance of the Green Bay Packers offer and will report here for practice next Sunday.

The signing of Voss came as a result of nearly a month's negotiations by the Packers management. During the summer of 1923, Voss was sold by the Independent management to Gil Falcone's club at Toledo where he played last fall. The Mud Hens were scarce of tackles and Voss was used at this position during the season.

DEUTSCH BOUGHT VOSS
Early this spring when Sammy Deutsch, the Cleveland mogul, starting laying plans for what he hopes to be a championship team, his first step was to buy Voss from Toledo.

About six weeks ago, Deutsch purchased the Canton Bulldogs, bag and baggage and in this deal he got two of the Bulldogs' famous ends, Bird Carroll and Guy Chamberlain. Deutsch also had on hand his two wing men from his 1923 club, Pierce and Myers, both of whom live in Cleveland.

Just when Deutsch discovered that he had a surplus of ends, he received a wire from the Packers management offering to buy an end. The Cleveland mogul talked things over with the "wings" he had signed up and Voss jumped at the chance to come to Green Bay.

GRADUATE OF DETROIT
Voss is a graduate of the University of Detroit. He played his last year of varsity football in 1919 when he drew favorable mention from Walter Camp. In 1920, he was a team mate of Moose Gardner's on the Detroit Herd in the Pro league. When the Detroit club dropped out of the Pro circuit, Voss was sold to Rock Island where, for two years he played "wonder" football for the Independents. Last season, he was with Toledo.

heat when it comes down to going light, still having enough lures to cover the condition of the weather and water.

It is the versatility of the spinner which is one of the greatest points in its favor. It is a wonderful fish catcher when it is operated close to the surface of the water, while in trolling, the addition of a heavy dipsey sinker makes a spinner run deep, when the fish are striking beneath the surface. Then again a light dipsey sinker turns the spinner into a bait casting lure, a combination that is constantly finding more favor each year.

The spinner has many advantages, for instance, it is light in weight, takes up little or no room in the kit and when used if a fish misses, one can stop a spinner and by manipulating the rod back and forth, cause enough flash for the fish to return to connect.

Mound Ace Disproves Live Ball Is Barrier

Dazzy Vance of the Brooklyn Nationals is easily the pitching sensation of the major leagues this year.

In a season replete with unusually good pitching performances, Vance holds the center of the stage without much opposition.

On August 23, of this year, pitching against Chicago, Vance won his twenty-second victory of the season. It was his tenth straight win. To turn the trick he was compelled to pitch fifteen innings.

Fifteen strikeouts is a modern National League record. It falls one short of the American League record made by Rube Waddell in 1908.

The tenth straight win is a National League record for the year, topping Carl May's string of nine and equalling the American League record for the year made by Hollis Thurston of Chicago.

VANCE'S RECORD CHANGES
When Vance hunc up his twenty-second victory of the year Brooklyn had played 119 games, leaving 33 more contests to be engaged in by that team.

Flourishing that Vance will start every fourth day, it is reasonable to expect that he will take part in at least nine more games. If used as relief pitcher in an effort to save some games, maybe he set down 15 on strikes.

In 10 of his starts this year, Vance has struck out nine or more men. His poorest showing in this respect was in a recent 4 to 3 win over Pittsburg, in which he struck out only two men.

New York trimmed him in two of his first four defeats, once stopping him after he won six games and another time four straight.

Joe Wood of Boston, in 1912, won 35 games and lost only five. His club won the pennant and the world series that year, his pitching featuring both.

LIVELY BALL A HANDICAP
In all probability Vance will better the late Bill Donovan's mark of 26 wins and four defeats, made almost 20 years ago as a member of the Detroit club.

Vance may break the American League mark for consecutive wins by a pitcher, held by Joe Wood and Walter Johnson. To better the National record of 19 straight, made by Rube Marquard in 1912, is considerably more difficult.

Most of the records that Vance is shooting at were made before the advent of the lively ball. In giving proper recognition to Vance's great pitching it must be remembered that he has heaved the "jack-rabbit" ball.

Vance should register about 230 strikeouts this year, a remarkable performance. With 22 wins and only four defeats charged against him, he has 193 strikeouts to his credit.

CHICAGO EAST FOR VANCE
The Chicago Cubs have been easiest for Vance. In one game he whiffed 11 Cubs, in another 14, and in his last appearance against that club he set down 15 on strikes.

SHOE PITCHERS GET LAST CHANCE TO ENTER TOURNEY

Entry List Closes Wednesday Evening for Competition on Sept. 6

Wednesday is the last day for entry in the Y. M. C. A.—Post-Crescent city championship horseshoe tournament, and unless the number of contestants increases considerably, barnyard golf in Appleton will have to await another season to get a good start. The present tourney was planned to estimate the probable chances for entry in state and national competition next year, but the lack of enthusiasm which has been evident during the past fortnight makes the prospect extremely doubtful.

Less than a score of entries have been received to date despite the enthusiasm which greeted the first announcement of the plan several weeks ago. Probably unfavorable weather must be blamed for the falling off of entries, but it is expected that the day will almost double the number of competitors.

The application blank printed on this page appears for the last time, and those who desire to avail themselves of it are urged to do so at once.

The tournament is scheduled to start Sept. 6.

COMBINED LOCKS PLANS 3-DAY TRIP

Industrial Team Will Meet Reedsburg, Sauk City and Madison Blues

Combined Locks Baseball team Thursday morning will leave on a three-day trip on which they are scheduled to meet Reedsburg, Sauk City and the Madison Blues on Thursday, Friday and Saturday respectively. This is the most extensive tour attempted by the Millmen this season, but they are looking for victories in every game.

Saturday afternoon they shut out the McCoy-Nolan Giants, a colored team, 4 to 0. Gertz allowed seven hits but kept them well scattered. The Millmen got to field for eight, three of which were two baggers, and bunched them. Gertz added four strikeouts to his list, while Field was accredited with two.

The batteries: Combined Locks—Gertz and R. Smith; Giants—Field and Sheldon.

GREENVILLE GRANGERS BOW TO FREMONT, 7-6

Greenville claims to have discovered why Fremont refused to join the county league which flailed here last Spring. Sunday afternoon the Greenville Grangers visited Fremont and dropped their ballgame, 7 to 6, playing against "ten men" according to the manager of the invaders. The Grangers got to Wall for nine strikes while Woods was hit six times, but according to reports from Greenville, the umpire was blind to strikes when the Fremonters were at bat and preferred to call members of the hometown safe on every play rather than risk the loss of their favor.

The battery for Greenville was Woods and Blackburn; for Fremont, Wall and Sasse.

Firpo Moves His Camp On Tex' Orders

New York—Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight, left Saratoga Springs for New York Tuesday night to finish his training for his match with Harry Wills, scheduled for Sept. 11, at Madison Square garden.

The Argentine is abandoning his Saratoga Springs camp at the direction of Tex Rickard, promoter, who ordered him to New York to finish his training.

"The reformers have been pestering him unmercifully during the last week concerning deportation charges which are hanging over his head and his state of mind is such that he can not concentrate on his training. I have ordered him to come to New York to finish his work so that I can have him here with me to speed up and quell, if possible, the absurd charges that are hanging fire," said Rickard tonight in discussing the case.

"THE OLD STAND"

FOX RIVER MILLERS BOW TO MANITOWOC

Fox River Paper Co. of Appleton Sunday afternoon invaded Manitowoc and there dropped a game with the Manitowoc Merchants, 4 to 3. The game was fast and close, and remarkably free from errors. Ely pitched a wonderful brand of ball for the Merchants allowing but five hits, while he and his mates got to Tarnow for eight. Tarnow pulled down eight men by the strikeout route while Ely accounted for nine.

Four twin killings enlivened the contest, one of them by the Merchants and the other three by the Papermakers. Neither of the teams had scored up to the sixth stanza when the Merchants grabbed three. The invaders came back in the seventh and eighth taking one in the former and two in the latter, tying the score. Krenz's error in the final inning combined with a walk and a hit gave the Manitowoc club the winning run. The Tarnow brothers each slammed out a two-bagger.

Batteries: Manitowoc—Ely and Cam; Fox River Paper Co.—Tarnow and Last.

FAIR BOARD WILL MEET IN MILWAUKEE

Madison—The state fair board will meet in Milwaukee the latter part of this month during the national dairy up to the sixth stanza when the Merchants grabbed three. The invaders came back in the seventh and eighth taking one in the former and two in the latter, tying the score. Krenz's error in the final inning combined with a walk and a hit gave the Manitowoc club the winning run. The Tarnow brothers each slammed out a two-bagger.

Batteries: Manitowoc—Ely and Cam; Fox River Paper Co.—Tarnow and Last.

Enough Opportunities To Sink A Ship-Or Float A Business

We can't say that there are a dozen opportunities for you—or a hundred—or a thousand—passing through the columns of the Post-Crescent A-B-C Classified Section. We can't say just how many there are—because what is an opportunity to one man is not an opportunity to another man. And conversely—what is not an opportunity to one man is to another.

So we'll just say that there are enough opportunities for everybody.

We'll even go farther than that—we're willing to go on record as saying that all the best opportunities of this locality are to be found in the A-B-C Classified Section from day to day.

It's to your everlasting advantage to take a daily stroll along these paths that are paved with opportunities.

USE NEW SYSTEM OF TEACHING IN 4TH WARD SCHOOL

Fourteen Hundred Children Enrolled in Five of the City's Schools

More than 1,400 children were enrolled at Third ward, Washington, Lincoln, Columbus and Franklin schools on Tuesday, the opening day of school. Parochial schools and First ward schools have not completed enrollment figures. St. Joseph school enrolls beginners on Wednesday.

Several new teachers have been engaged at the schools in the city and include the Misses Theimer and Eva Mollenbruch of Hebron, Neb., for the Zion school, and Miss Detman for St. Paul school. The faculty of the second district schools is not permanently determined and waits action of the board at the next meeting.

Miss Mary Rogers of Appleton, will teach in the mathematics department of the Fourth district schools. Other teachers are Miss Mary Kozlik of Waupun, home economics, Miss Aurelia Whittling of Clintonville, fourth grade, Miss Elizabeth Wadsworth of Appleton, kindergarten director and Miss Marjorie Hood of Wauwatosa, assistant kindergarten director.

According to F. B. Younger, principal, a departmental system is being introduced in the schools of the Fourth district this year. The seventh and eighth grades will be run on a plan similar to that which will be used in the Junior High schools next year. An effort will be made to bring the pupils in contact with vocational and pre-vocational training. The enrollment in the Fourth district schools is not completed as yet but an increase over last year's enrollment has been noted, especially in the seventh and eighth grades.

Ben J. Rohan, principal of the First district schools will place particular emphasis on socialized study periods and socialized reports and discussions. A new phase will be the development of experimental demonstrations in the study of science, especially in the upper grades. A list of pupils in the study which will include famous Americans, German, Flemish and other painters will take place.

BOY SCOUT COMMITTEE DEFERS ITS MEETING

Conflicting events made it impossible to hold the meeting of Appleton district committee, Boy Scouts of America, as planned for Tuesday evening. The gathering will be deferred until later in the month when the members will be more free to attend.

Mrs. Wesley Latham has been engaged by the valley scout council as the office assistant of P. O. Kelcher, scout executive. She will be in the office each afternoon, enabling the council to keep the headquarters in Insurance-bldg open most of the time.

GARVEY FARM BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE

Appeals for Help Are Made to Kaukauna and Appleton Departments

Fire which broke out about noon in the large barn at the Patrick Garvey farm, three miles north of Freedom, destroyed practically the entire structure and a large quantity of hay. Kaukauna fire department's chemical automobile was summoned but was too late to check the blaze. Appleton fire department declined an appeal for help because the distance was too great to reach the fire before it would be beyond control.

Mr. Garvey had 104 loads of hay in the barn but his grain had not yet been hauled in. His livestock with the exception of one large hog also was out of the building and was saved. The building, approximately 40 by 50 feet in size was practically ruined and the silo was damaged somewhat. The loss has not been estimated but it is understood to be covered by insurance.

Cause of the fire has not been learned but is believed to be from spontaneous combustion. Members of the family discovered the blaze and summoned help but the structure burned too swiftly for those who tried to check it.

1,012 ENROLLED IN HIGH SCHOOL

A thousand and twelve students were enrolled in Appleton high school on Tuesday night, many more enrolled on Wednesday and it is probable that new pupils will continue to come in for the remainder of the week. This is an increase over the registration in 1923, which amounted to 968 the first day and 1,025 the second day. Of the 1,012 there are 335 freshmen, 185 sophomores, 215 juniors and 274 sophomores. Regular classes started at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning.

YOUNG MAN BADLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

Walter Schaefer, son of O. W. Schaefer, 387 Morrison-st., suffered a compound fracture of his right leg in an automobile accident near Stephenson, Mich., last Wednesday. Mr. Schaefer was picked up by a bus driver after the accident and taken to St. Joseph hospital at Menominee, Mich., where he probably will be confined for another five or six weeks. He is circulation manager in that territory for the Milwaukee Journal.

WOODENWARE BOY SCOUT TROOP WILL ORGANIZE

Sons of Menasha Woodenware company employees who recently enrolled in a new boy scout troop which the company is sponsoring are to meet at the cafeteria of the plant at Menasha Wednesday evening to organize.

There are about 30 boys who have asked to join and these will be formed into troops and patrol leaders will be named. Carl Walker will assume charge as scoutmaster. He and two of the older boys of the troop spent several days at the Oshkosh boy scout camp at Onaway Island, Chain o' Lakes, in order to familiarize themselves with the management of a troop and with scouting activity.

DEATHS

MRS. W. S. LEROY
Word was received Monday that Mrs. W. S. LeRoy died Sunday night at her home in Alhambra, Calif. Mrs. LeRoy formerly was a member of First Congregational church of Appleton. She moved to California about eight years ago. She is survived by her widower and seven children.

MRS. J. W. ZAHRT
Mrs. J. W. Zahrt, 72, died Tuesday at her home, 750 North Division-st. She is survived by a widower, two sons, Charles H. and Frank E. Zahrt, Appleton; three daughters, Sadie and Laura, Appleton, and Mrs. Clara Miller, Oshkosh. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at her home and will be conducted by Dr. J. A. Holmes. Burial will be at Riverside cemetery.

CARPENTER LOSES TO ASSEMBLYMAN

Anton M. Miller, who represented the Second Outagamie-co district in the state assembly at Madison last year, was re-nominated in the primary election Tuesday, winning over R. T. Carpenter, chairman of the town of Maine, by 750 votes.

Carpenter's campaign apparently was a surprise to some of the politicians who had figured that Miller would have easy sailing for the nomination. Miller's nomination was won by a large majority but it was believed Carpenter would hardly make an impression in the contest.

Carpenter carried the home town by an overwhelming majority and ran strong in Seymour and Cicero. Miller polled his biggest vote in Kaukauna.

LOTS OF DRAMA IN MARSHALL'S THRILLING TALE

"Seward's Folly" Highly Theatrical and Highly Entertaining

BY ELEANOR WING

American pioneer history, has as much appeal for the most sedate adult as for a boy who, like Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn, sets out to discover the world on a raft. Figuratively speaking we are setting out with Edson Marshall, in his most recent book, "Seward's Folly," published by Little, Brown and Co., to discover an Alaska that is an unknown country. Actual historical basis for the plot of his story is scanty, but we are glad of the colorful setting it provides for the thrills in the contest of wits between the young American diplomat, the Russian Fur company, and the Hudson Bay company, all of whom are seeking to win Alaska by hook or crook.

But for the "folly" of Seward, secretary of state, which is the supreme confidence the great man places in Jefferson Sharp, an ex-major in the Confederate army, America might have lost the magnificent territory of Alaska for all time. Jeff went as an emissary of the United States to Sitka, capital of Alaska, which at that time belonged to Russia. But he went as a loyal upholder of the south, determined to continue fighting the union he had struggled for so long to disrupt. And he believed he had found the way to strike at America, by losing Alaska in a deliberate deal with England.

He learned many lessons however. He yearned for the pomp and ceremony of pre-war days in the south, and found a glittering, continental society in Sitka, far more ceremonious than that of Dixie, and for a while it blinded him. But soon, through his responsibility to America which he was morally compelled to shoulder, he discovered the treacheries lying beneath the polite courtesies of the Russian life. Through his contact with three strong characters, Molly Forest, her uncle and an Indian guide, he is brought to a belief in the United States as a whole nation and not as a separated north and south.

The story is well told, and moves swiftly from one breathtaking experience to another. The stupendous fur trade is described in a way that makes it seem one of the great pirate industries of the sea and land, and it is not any less romantic than the glorious fighting of Captain Kidd. Molly is too slippy and positive to be entirely lovable. Jeff is taken back into the fold of the union too quickly for us to believe his Confederate sympathies were deeply grounded. And the situations are often melodramatic and theatrical. But there is never a dull moment throughout the story, and when it is finished you can close your eyes and see an Alaska which has become a vast, important country, with a continental and cosmopolitan capital that seems scarcely congruous with our provincial ideas of that cold, uncolonized wilderness of 1857.

BOOKS AND BOOK MEN

Granville Street, the author of "Peter was Married," recently published by Putnam, is at present living in London and sends his publishers the following description in lieu of a photograph.

"I haven't much of a selling face anyway, not that it is much worse than Hatcher's, nor is my nose so forward and distressed as Keable's, my hair as much like a cock's comb as Dennett's, or my head kniked sparrow-wise like Wells', but I don't wear goggles, a la Lewis, beard and baldness near to Shakespeare like Hall Caine, or the like of Star Almoner. There is, in fact, nothing about me that is distinguished enough to make people want my photograph. What I would suggest is that you send a camera to the subway and pick out a Granville Street who looks like a novelist."

No one can say that Lord Dunsany lacks versatility—and, if to prove it to the doubting, coincident with the publication of his financial novel, "The King of Elfland's Daughter," Putnam, comes the news from England that he is well on the way to winning the chess championship which takes place in Ireland. Also he is well known as a fine horseman and an ex-soldier of the Coldstream Guards, having fought through the South African war.

Not so many years ago women's jackets were hideous with grotesque "leg o' mutton" sleeves. And not so many years ago book jackets were drab, uninteresting affairs that served a useful but far from ornamental purpose simply, in protecting books. Now, happily, the jacket has an interest all its own, and is frequently designed and executed by a well known artist. A number of books on Dant and Liverights' fall list have jackets worthy of framing. Willy Pogany, designer of the scenery for the Metropolitan Opera House production of "Coe DOR" is responsible for the languishing green lady on "Rue with a difference" by Charles Reicht; T. Naftan, the Russian artist, made the Greek motif on Proud Flesh, by Lawrence Sanders; and Ty Mahon is the artist for Humphrey Dumpty by Ben Hecht. Even the catalogue is to be distinguished in appearance; the inimitable Ralph Barton has covered its outside with amusing cartoon of Dant and Liverights authors.

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

"THE EARTHLY PARADISE"

"Quick-coming death" might at first glance not appear to be a promising theme for an epic poem, but William Morris, nineteenth century English poet, successfully made it the subject of his too little read poem, "The Earthly Paradise." The thought that life is sweet only because it is short, that death adds to the zest of life, that life is made keen by the certainty and the imminence of death runs like a thread through the whole work, giving an atmosphere of melancholy to it that the title gives no hint of.

"The Earthly Paradise" is too little read today. It is only a little over half a century ago that it was written and even though it does not rank with the very greatest English poetry it wears well and was perhaps the best work of a man who was a true artist in several lines.

The poem is patterned after "The Canterbury Tales." So conscious was Morris of this indeed that he places the action in Chaucer's time. A group of wanderers sail to the other side of the world in search of an earthly paradise, a fountain of youth, a place where death has been abolished. After a lifetime of wandering and fruitless search for eternal youth they come, old and broken and dispirited, to a certain western land where they are treated hospitably and with kindness. In return for this hospitality they tell the people 24 old tales, two for each month of the year. The stories are more or less familiar, just as most of Chaucer's stories were quite familiar. William Morris makes his wanderers retell the old stories of medieval times, giving to them their own melancholy atmosphere of hopeless search for the earthly paradise which they know now to be an illusion.

TOO MUCH OF DEATH

Death hangs like a shadow over the whole poem, over all the separate tales of the poem. The reader is never free from the thought of it and it gives a pathos even to the more cheerful stories. There are of course artistic reasons for making so much of the theme of death in "The Earthly Paradise." It gives atmosphere to the poem and is a reflection of medieval pessimism and preoccupation with the theme of death. Having made the Wanderers, who lived in the day of Chaucer, tell the tales, Morris was forced by the artistic demands of his scheme to "reproduce" their view of life, which carried the imminence of death with it as a corollary.

But granting that, William Morris would not have hit upon that scheme for the poem in the first place if the theme of death had not interested him. Although the characters who tell the tales are from the middle ages when such a preoccupation of death was as natural as breathing, it is plain that Morris himself speaks through his characters.

HAD ZEST FOR LIFE

All of which seems rather queer for a man who was bursting with vitality. Few English poets had a greater superabundance of life than William Morris. He was almost Rooseveltian in his zest for living, so full of energy that he was always bubbling over with it into all sorts of artistic pursuits. Besides being a poet, he was an unwearied writer of prose romances, a weaver of tapestries, an art printer, a maker of artistic furniture, an engraver, a book binder, a Socialist stump speaker, a writer of propaganda pamphlets. He was alive every moment of time and a poem from him with the thought of death as a constant and everpresent undertone seems incongruous, to say the least.

But the explanation may lie in this very superabundance of vitality. It is not uncommon for people of large vitality to feel that way. Samuel Johnson, another man of abundant vitality, frequently lived in the presence of the thought of death. Perhaps the feeling that all this piousness of all life in some characters like Morris who are endowed with more than the average share of life and strength.

Whatever the explanation, the undertone of "The Earthly Paradise" is one of melancholy. But that does not make it less worth reading. Shelley says that "our sweetest songs are those that tell of saddest thought."

SAM GOMPERS TELLS STORY OF HIS LIFE

Noted Labor Leader's Autobiography Soon Ready for Reading Public

An autobiography by Samuel Gompers is in the press for publication by E. P. Dutton, and the life record of a man whose dominant personality has colored industrial life of today soon will be ready for the public to read. Born in East Side, London, Mr. Gompers came to the United States during the Civil war and lived for many years in East Side, New York. By sheer force of personality and leadership, he became a compelling figure in labor organization, a power in national affairs and a man who is known internationally. The directing motive in his long life is a passion for service for the betterment of humanity.

The autobiography tells the story of a leadership begun in the formative period of the modern trade union movement and continued through an industrial period in which mechan-

THREE NOVELS ON 'MOST POPULAR' LIST AT LIBRARY

Canfield, Ferber and Curwood
Books Still Are in Great Demand

Three novels headed the list of the most popular books in Appleton Public Library last week. They are "The Home-Maker" by Dorothy Canfield, "So Big" by Edna Ferber and "A Gentleman of Courage" by James Oliver Curwood. The first two have been in demand continually since their publication a long time ago, and while Curwood's book is new, indications are that it will be just as popular as any of his other books.

The people who like nature have wanted to read "Adventures in Swaziland" by O. R. O'Neill and "Birds" by A. H. Cordier. For the last three or four weeks the book on birds has been in demand. Travel books have always been welcome additions to the library, judging from their circulation.

STATE PAYS $6,388 TOWARD COUNTY SCHOOL

A check for $6,388.88 was received by Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, county treasurer, last week from Solomon Levitan, state treasurer, as state aid for the maintenance of the Outagamie Rural Normal school at Kaukauna.

The children's department will be a busy place in a short time, for the youngsters stop in on their way to and from school to borrow books. Some of the young people have started to read books that will help them in school, but fiction is still the most in demand. The most popular books have been the "twin" books by Lucy Fitch Perkins. The author has a pair of twins for every country and the little folks follow their adventures eagerly.

Other books that have been in demand are "The Travels of Birds" by F. M. Chapman and "The Fall of the Year" by Dallas Lore Sharp.

Wild Oats

WHEN Dan took Evelyn in his arms and told her that he loved her she believed him.

In her ignorance of life she had no way of knowing he was not in earnest.

If she had known she was only one of many girls into whose ears he had poured the same sweet sounding words, what a world of shame and degradation she would have been spared.

"His False Standard"—in True Story

Magazine for October is a story of the sowing of wild oats—and the reaping of a crop of agony. If every man and woman could see the broken hearts and ruined hopes, the days and nights of remorse and tears that follow wrong-doing—no young man would trifle with a woman's love and no girl would give her heart to any man until she had made sure that his intentions were honorable.

Don't fail to read this thrilling lesson from life.

Other Absorbing Stories from Life

Here are just a few of the unusual features in the October Issue of True Story Magazine

"Her Final Choice"—Nina, an orphan, hungered for love. So when Peter Hodge came into her life, she fell an easy prey to his seeming devotion. She little realized that in throwing herself into his arms, she was inviting tragedy.

"What Every Woman Hopes"—Living in the country, Madge thought no temptation of city life could ever lure her into wrong. But Madge did not know how easy and attractive each little downward step is made, and how fiercely she was to have to battle for her soul.

"The Network of Fate"—When Janet concealed from her husband that her friend, had made improper advances toward her—she believed her silence the only way to save her husband from ruin. How she had to literally claw her way out of hell as a result, is a most heart gripping narrative.

"You Belong to Me"—When Avery Holson bullied her into a loveless marriage, Alice was afraid to withdraw from an alliance that was loathsome to her. Had she been properly taught from her childhood days, what agony of mind and soul she might have escaped!

Read Also in the October True Story

"When Fear Took Flight"
"His Great Temptation"
"Forever After"
"The Part of a Fool"

The Gage of Battle

In this country a mighty conflict is raging. Evil is battling to destroy all that is virtuous and good.

The weapons of Evil are deceit, treachery, cunning. It slinks in the shadows and attacks in the dark. Against such a foe, moralizing avails little. The fight calls for action—determined, fearless. True Story Magazine, as published by Bernarr Macfadden represents that kind of action.

"During those awful days of suspense both as to Evelyn's faith and mine, I passed through hell-fires of suffering . . . and I learned that I loved Evelyn, loved her as a man loves sunshine, and woods, and rivers, and all natural, wholesome things."

True Story needs but one weapon—the sword of truth. If it can save others the tragedy of evil; if it can show young people the perils and penalties of wrong—it will have gone far in its battle for Right.
